Target Shooting.

On the 28th November the King's Guards, the Prince's Own, Leleiohoku Guards (Cavalry), Mamalahoa Guards and the King's Own Volunteer Guards marched from the Barracks to Punchbowl and engaged in target shooting. The range was 250 yards, the target being considerably elevated above the shootists. The Leleiohoku Guards, consisting of 28 men, were the first to shoot. They succeeded in making 22 points including one bull's eye, which was the best individual score, viz., five points. The Prince's Own, an artillery corps, shot next with 15 men, who only made four points. Two was the best individual score. The King's Own Volunteer Guards came next with 34 men, who aggregated 83 points. Private Robert Hobron made thirteen points, the best score of the day. Two bull's eyes were made by him and eight bull's eyes were made in all by the corps.

This finished the first day's shooting. On the following day the Mamalahoa Guards took the field and 33 of the corps shot. The total score was 53 points, including four bull's eyes and the best score ten points.

The King's Household troops shot next with 32 men and made 86 points, nine bull's eyes, and best single score was ten.

The officers of the several companies shot after the privates, with the following result: Leleiohoku Guards, three officers, eight points. Princes Own, three officers, three points. King's Own, two officers, seven points, made by Captain Sam Nowlien. Mamalahoa Guards, three officers, thirteen points | to consider appropriations for the Tonquin made by sub-Lieutenant Elania. I King's Guards three officers, made rought.

The best scores were made by Private Hobron and and sub-Lieutenant Elama, thirteen points each. On Saturday at noon they met on the range and shot off the tie to decide who would be entitled to the gold medal presented by Mr. William Unger. The wind was blowing very strong across the range and neither of the competitors made a point. Later try, has been elected Chairman of the comin the day they shot again and Elama again made a duck egg, whilst Hobron on his last shot made a of confidence in Ferry, now declares he did bull's eye and was declared the winner of the trophy. The weapons used were the Winchester repeating rifles.

On Sunday morning the troops were mustered at the Barracks and a few minutes before 11 A. M. H. R. H. Princess Poomaikelani appeared and presented the gold medal to Private Hobron, who will hold it for one year, when it will be again competed for. In order to become the absolute property to stand an assessment in addition to the amount of the wearer, it must be won by him three times out of five. In addition to the medal, Private Hobron received a douceur of $10 from His Majesty and sub-Lieutenant Elama $5. From the Barracks the troops marched to Kaumakapili Church for the purpose of attending Divine service and on their return to the Barracks they were dismissed.

The medal is of solid gold and the work of Messrs Wenner & Co. It is a Maltese Cross, with a laurel wreath encircling a target, and suspended by a chain attached to the pin, which is neatly affixed to a miniature rifle. The medal is now on view in | military situation remains unchanged. Admiral Messrs, J. M. Oat, Jr. & Co.'s store.

Sir Moses Montefiore.

The fact of the matter is that in all his long career of nearly a century there is nothing that is not creditable to Sir Moses Montefiore as an honorable and benevolent man, with a strong sense of national pride and patriotism. If we are to be proud of long descent, naturally no people can vie in that respect with the Jews. Sir Moses Montefiore has enjoyed to the full the pleasure of being a member to the world's most ancient people, and of acting almost as a special providence to members and tribes of that people in distress. He has regarded Palestine as his fatherland, all Jews as his brothers, and all men as his neighbors. In his lifetime his people have been more than half emancipated, and no one has done more than he to free them | French gunboat Carabine, manned by thirty-six from the many disabilities under which | men and commanded by Lieutenant Bauer, was

A cable special to the Sun from London of the 17th says: The uneasiness about the continuance of peace has passed into open menaces of war. The tone of the German journals becomes absolutely savage. The Cologne Gazette shouts out, "Since a bloody struggle is inevitable, the sooner it takes place the better," and another newspaper declares that any insults in Spain to the Crown Prince, under French instigation will popularize the idea of war. At the same time the military newspapers inform Italy that she will have to take the offensive in defence of her German ally and lecture her on the backward state of her ar-

In France there is cowed silence, but fierce rage at the daily and offensive admonitions received from English os well as German journals, and the open defiance of a barbarous power like China have added to her irritation. Things look ugly all around, but while Spain is receiving the Crown Prince the help of a Russian alliance cannot be relied on by the French Republie. His bad credit and the renewed threats of the nihilists have convinced the Czar that he cannot cope with Austria; and the mission of De Giers to Bismarck is to crave Germany's help to keep Austria off of Russia. Ferry's Minister meantime is in a rather bad way. The committee appointed expedition developed an unexpectedly carping spirit, peremptorily demanding from the Ministers more information, and above all, the avoidance of a war with China. Subscription papers are being quietly circulated and those having them in charge say there will be no trouble in commanding the funds needed. The signers pledge themselves subscribed in the event that more money should be needed. A strong delegation will go on to Washington to present the claims of Cincinnati before the National committee at their meeting on the 12th of December. General Hickenlooper, who is a member of the National Committee is desirous of having the convention held in Cincinnati and is assisting in putting the claims of the town in good form.
